Denis Gagné of Trisotech elected to the Board of Directors of CRIM

MONTREAL, June 18th, 2004 – Trisotech is proud to announce that Mr. Denis Gagné has been elected to the Board of Directors of the CRIM effective June 16, 2004.

Mr. Gagné is a highly respected leader of the IT community. His breadth of management experience, IT expertise and vision should provide valuable insight to the CRIM Board.

Denis Gagné joined Trisotech in 1998. Denis is responsible for the original product and technology vision at Trisotech. Prior to joining Trisotech, Denis successfully negotiated and completed the sale of an emerging technology company. During his career, Denis has held several positions including Product Manager, Research Director, and University Professor prior to which, Denis spent 13 years with the Department of National Defense where he has held various technological positions. Denis holds a M.Math. degree in Artificial Intelligence from the University of Waterloo and a BSc in Computer Science from the Collège Militaire Royal (CMR) de St-Jean. He is the author of over 25 scientific publications and numerous technical presentations and seminars in Artificial Intelligence and various fields of computer science.
